

Bachelor degree Fact Sheet

How long does a degree take?

The length of your degree program depends on your academic background. The average amount of time required for a B.A. or B.S. degree is approximately 4 years. Graduates of higher secondary education who hold diplomas such as the Austrian Matura or the International Baccalaureate can have official documentation of this work evaluated for advanced standing credit toward degree requirements at Webster University. Credit awards are based upon the marks/grades you have obtained and the specific programs you have completed.

University level coursework successfully completed at an accredited university can also be evaluated for transfer credit, which may reduce the length of study required for the degree.
